WORKS IN PROGRESS

Essentialism and the Essence of what it is to be Necessary

[\[manuscript\]](#)

Under review at Philosophical Studies, Springer

Argues that if necessity is grounded in essence, the necessity of essence should obtain essentially of what it is to be necessary.

Belief Revision in Truthmaker Semantics

[\[manuscript\]](#)

Develops several hyperintensional AGM-style belief revision frameworks with the resources from Finean truthmaker semantics to model local rationality.

Demystifying Anchoring

[\[unfinished manuscript\]](#)

B.A. thesis, National Taiwan University; advisor: Prof. Duen-Min Deng

Argues that anchoring need not be a sui generis metaphysical relation by examining various possible cases of exportation.

Abstract Object Theory and the Fictionally Fictional

[\[unfinished manuscript\]](#)

NSTC Research Project for College Students; advisor: Prof. Hsien-Chieh Nihel Jhou

Presents a counterargument against Zalta's abstract object theory from the case of fictional fictions and their objects.
